

FACTSHEET

Performance Returns

The North MaxQ Macro UCITS Fund (USD Inst. Class) return for the September 2016 period (31st August 2016 to 28th September 2016) was -0.50% bringing the year-to-date return to -15.44%.

Fund Overview

The North MaxQ Macro UCITS Fund is a global macro fund that seeks to generate absolute positive returns over a market cycle that is uncorrelated to other global macro managers, the broad fund universe as well as interest rate, foreign exchange and equity indices. The investment manager identifies micro-economic and country specific imbalances to develop views and corresponding trading strategies. These strategies provide a diverse source of alpha and are expressed through thematic, relative value, counter-trend and quantitative exposures. The exposures are constructed to offer the best asymmetric payoff, while minimising expected correlations and providing protection against downside gap-risk. The investment manager prefers to take risk across a number of different strategies. Risk is monitored in real-time at the strategy and portfolio level and individual strategy stop-loss limits are established at the inception of each trade.

Monthly Market Commentary

Despite all G3 central banks having had key policy meetings during the month of September, there has been limited market impact. All meetings however did indicate a departure from current policy. The ECB indicated limited appetite to reduce their already negative deposit rate further, the Bank of Japan announced a shift in its monetary policy framework away from balance sheet expansion and negative rates towards targeting the yield on the 10y JGB, and the US Federal Reserve suggested that a hike in December is now very likely. Economic data out of the G3 and China improved during the month of September suggesting a pickup in global growth as we head into the final quarter of the year. Fund performance in September was lacklustre; the main gainers were our short GBP position and long US inflation, while on the losing side was our short FTSE 250 position. Looking forward we expect the US elections, the Italian referendum and developments around the UK's exit strategy from the EU to be potentially market moving events. We continue to have a bias to be long implied FX and equity volatility which are currently very low and do not appropriately reflect diverging monetary policies among G4 central banks and the potential for heightened geopolitical risk.

Performance Attribution

Returns in September were negative, mainly due to our short FTSE 250 position. Out of a total of 41 strategies that were active during the month of September, 9 had a positive return, 12 had a negative return and 20 were essentially flat. 6 strategies were added and 15 were closed. The figures below show the performance attribution across different regions and by strategy style.
