

FACTSHEET

Performance Returns

The North MaxQ Macro UCITS Fund (USD Inst. Class) return for the April 2015 period (25th March to 29th April) was 1.73% bringing the year-to-date return to 2.48%.

Fund Overview

The North MaxQ Macro UCITS Fund is a global macro fund that seeks to generate absolute positive returns over a market cycle that is uncorrelated to other global macro managers, the broad fund universe and primary interest rate, foreign exchange and equity indices. The investment manager identifies micro-economic and country specific imbalances to develop views and corresponding trading strategies. These strategies provide a diverse source of alpha and are expressed through thematic, relative value and counter-trend exposures. The exposures are constructed to offer the best asymmetric payoff, while minimising expected correlations and providing protection against downside gap-risk. The investment manager prefers to take risk across a number of different strategies. Risk is monitored in real-time at the strategy and portfolio level and individual strategy stop-loss limits are established at the inception of each trade.

Monthly Market Commentary

April witnessed a very significant correction in consensus positions, namely short the EUR, long European equities and long European Government Bonds. Both leading and lagging data out of the US continued to be lacklustre and as a result final Q1 growth will most likely disappoint with a negative print, well below current consensus expectations. Our view was that much of the slowdown was weather related and as a result there would have been a significant bounce in Q2. Undoubtedly the bounce will happen but might not be as strong as we had anticipated and not fully offset Q1 weakness. In Europe, after two very strong quarters, the data seems to be stabilising. Outside of G3 the main market event was the cut by the People's Bank of China (PBoC) in the reserve requirement ratio for banks by 100 basis points, a response to the weakening of the economy and increasing deflationary data. The Fund's performance in April was overall positive, with the most significant contributors being gains from our directional and relative value interest rate positions in China, the UK, US and New Zealand. Losses were posted in our currency positions in India and Singapore. Heading into the month of May we are seeking to take profit on some of the interest rate positions which have a short duration bias.

Performance Attribution

Returns in April were positive, and mainly driven by our Chinese and UK rates positions. Out of a total of 45 strategies that were active during the month of April, 19 had a positive return, 10 had a negative return and 16 were essentially flat. 11 strategies were added and 6 were closed. The figures below show the performance attribution across different regions and by strategy style.
