

FACTSHEET

THE MANAGER

Investment Objective & Strategy

The Crabel Gemini UCITS Fund is advised by managed futures trading pioneer, Crabel Capital Management, LLC. Crabel Gemini is a fully systematic portfolio of short holding period strategies designed to target structural market inefficiencies across a broadly diversified set of global futures and currency instruments.

The portfolio is deliberately structured to provide low correlation to all asset classes and offers a unique source of returns with over 40 differentiated and stand-alone strategy frameworks composing the Program. Crabel's focus on execution excellence provides a further advantage in efficiently accessing unique exposures in managed futures and foreign currency markets.

Crabel Gemini seeks to control risk by dynamic sizing of new trades relative to market volatility, the use of stops and a balance of volatility broadly diversified across sectors and geographic regions. Crabel Gemini has an approximate 10-day average hold timeframe and targets a 10% annualized standard deviation.

Monthly Commentary

The Crabel Gemini UCITS Fund posted a negative return for June of -1.84%, bringing the year-to-date return to +4.45%. June was a frustrating month for Gemini, though not just because of an overall loss on the month. The negative result disguises the fact that Gemini found opportunities in most market sectors -- with one key exception. For the month, Gemini made money in three of four sectors -- Foreign Exchange, Fixed Income and Commodities -- only to see very difficult trading in Stock Indices result in an overall down month. Similarly, from a strategy category perspective, Volatility Breakout, Factor Timing and Opportunistic collectively traded to essentially a flat return while the Reversal category of strategies was the main source of negative attribution. While Gemini trades a host of strategy concepts across approximately 200 markets, one clear takeaway on the month is that the poor timing of Reversal trades in Stock Indices was the root cause of the overall challenges on the month. Markets that exhibit persistent directional bias on low to moderate volatility, such as equities during the grinding two-week market selloff in mid-June, can be very difficult for Reversal strategies. Nonetheless, the ability of other sectors and strategy categories to fight through June's generally choppy environment is a good sign for the overall diversification of the portfolio.

Why Gemini?

- Uncorrelated Philosophy. The portfolio is designed to have low correlation to both traditional asset classes and trend following strategies.
- Aggressive Trading Cost Reduction. The cost to execute adds up far more quickly than is realized. Trade slippage is reduced through Crabel's proprietary algorithmic execution infrastructure.
- Unique Holding Timeframe. Strategies trade a balanced array of timeframes but average to a 10-day holding period.
- 40 Strategy Concepts in Four Categories. (i) Volatility Breakout; (ii) Mean Reversion; (iii) Factor Timing; (iv) Opportunistic
