Performance Returns

The North MaxQ Macro UCITS Fund (USD Inst. Class) return for the July 2017 period (28th June 2017 to 26th July 2017) was 0.20% bringing the year-to-date return to -4.42%.

Fund Overview

The North MaxQ Macro UCITS Fund is a global macro fund that seeks to generate absolute positive returns over a market cycle that is uncorrelated to other global macro managers, the broad fund universe as well as interest rate, foreign exchange and equity indices. The investment manager identifies micro-economic and country specific imbalances to develop views and corresponding trading strategies. These strategies provide a diverse source of alpha and are expressed through thematic, relative value, counter-trend and quantitative exposures. The exposures are constructed to offer the best asymmetric payoff, while minimising expected correlations and providing protection against downside gap-risk. The investment manager prefers to take risk across a number of different strategies. Risk is monitored in real-time at the strategy and portfolio level and individual strategy stop-loss limits are established at the inception of each trade.

Monthly Market Commentary

The most significant event during the month of July was the repricing of the USD, particularly versus the Euro. The move was driven by the perceived hawkishness of the ECB and its indifference to the level of the Euro. Overall we feel that the ECB will lag the FED in terms of tightening ultimately weighing on the Euro, which has significantly outperformed interest rate differentials. In Europe, but outside of the Eurozone, we continue to be bearish UK assets. The UK economy will continue to suffer from negative real household income growth and reduced investments due to the uncertainty surrounding Brexit. In Scandinavia, we are long both the Swedish and Norwegian Krone. The Swedish Krone's performance has lagged compared to the strengthening of the domestic economy, as it has been weighed down by a dovish Riksbank. We have reduced our long position in Norway, as the currency strengthened in line with domestic fundamentals and the oil price increase. US data also continued to be positive, however inflation, and most importantly, wage growth has yet to accelerate. The Fund's main position in the US is long the USD mainly against Sterling and the Australian Dollar. As with the Euro, the AUD has been trading at very rich levels versus interest rate differentials and more in line with iron prices which we expect to soften as the Chinese economy starts to slow down.
