Performance Returns

The SPARX OneAsia Long Short UCITS Fund returned +0.19% in the month of October.

Investment Objective & Strategy

The investment objective of the fund is to maximise risk-adjusted returns regardless of the market cycle by investing in equity within Asia including Japan. The strategy aims to capitalize on Asia's growth dynamics by identifying potential winners and losers through bottom-up fundamental research.

Market Commentary

In October, our top positive contributors include a short position in a Korean cosmetic ODM and long positions in NIDEC (6594 JP, a leading motor manufacturer) and ASICS (7936 JP, sports shoes and apparel brands under ASICS and Tiger).

Korean consumer companies whose growth rely on Chinese inbound tourist spending were hit hardest on the back of China's government directive to curb visitation to Korea. The positive return from our shorts were from a Korean cosmetic brand as well as a cosmetic ODM that have more than offset the losses from our long in a leading Korean consumer/cosmetic brands, LG Household and Healthcare (051900 KS).

We think: (1) our shorts within the sector (a cosmetic brand with limited SKUs and the other, a cash burning cosmetic ODM) should see continuous deterioration of earnings followed by multiple de-ratings; and (2) our long position in LG Household and Healthcare with its resilient earnings should weather the short term volatility to diverge upward away from our shorts. Meanwhile we plan to take advantage of any share price weakness by increasing long positions in companies with diversified business models, strong cash flow and with potential to penetrate brands into Chinese consumers.

In October, we added a few new short positions: (1) Japanese rice cooker brand where growth relies heavily on inbound Chinese tourists spending; and (2) Korean casino operator who faces mounting capex and opex burden due to commitments made two years ago that coincided with deteriorating gaming revenue amid tighter implementation of direct marketing and promotion ban on gaming in China.
