High Ridge Credit Opportunities UCITS Fund a Sub-Fund of MontLake UCITS Platform ICAV, managed by MLC Management Limited GBP Institutional Class Shares (IE00BYYS1Z98)

Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to seek to generate enhanced income returns and to increase the value of its assets over time.

A financial institution or corporate issuer of debt will typically issue both subordinated debt and unsubordinated debt, the distinction being that the repayments of the unsubordinated debt are prioritised over the repayments of the subordinated debt and the interest payments of the subordinated debt are higher than the interest payments of the unsubordinated debt.

The Sub-Fund will invest primarily in subordinated debt securities issued by financial institutions and other corporate issuers, but may also invest in unsubordinated debt such as baby bonds (see below).

The Sub-Fund will only invest in the subordinated debt of a financial institution or corporate issuer where the unsubordinated debt of such corporation or financial issuer is rated at least investment grade (i.e. rated the equivalent of S&P's BBB- rating or better and is considered to have a low possibility of default). The Sub-Fund may invest in subordinated debt securities which have credit ratings which are lower than investment grade. However, the Sub-Fund will aim to maintain on average, an overall credit rating for the subordinated debt securities of at least investment grade. The Sub-Fund will also aim to maintain an overall duration of 3-10 years (duration is a measure of how vulnerable the price of a debt security is to changes in interest rates).

The specific categories of securities in which the Sub-Fund may invest include "baby bonds" (bonds with a low issue price (typically $25) which rank above subordinated debt securities), preference securities (securities which rank below debt securities but which have a fixed dividend which is paid ahead of any dividend payable to ordinary shareholders) and contingent convertible capital securities ("CoCos").

CoCos are bonds which can be converted into shares or which can have their principal amount written down if a pre-specified trigger event occurs.

The Sub-Fund may use derivatives such as futures, options on futures or swaps to gain exposure to U.S. government debt securities or to certain equity indices for investment or hedging purposes against changes in interest rates and in the debt securities market. Options are securities that give the right to buy or sell another asset, a swap is an instrument that swaps the performance of one asset for another and futures are contracts to exchange a predetermined quantity of another asset at a certain price on a certain future date.

The Sub-Fund may invest in collective investment schemes and open-ended exchange traded funds that are consistent with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The Sub-Fund may also invest in closed-ended funds and in cash and money market instruments for cash management purposes.

You may sell your shares in the Sub-Fund on any business day that banks are open in Ireland and the United States of America. You must submit your application to the Sub-Fund's Administrator before 1.00p.m. three business days prior to the business day on which you want to sell.

Your shares do not pay income, but instead the Sub-Fund reinvests such income to grow your capital. As your shares are denominated in British Pounds and the Sub-Fund is valued in U.S. Dollars forward contracts are used to attempt to eliminate the effects of changes in the currency exchange rates against U.S. Dollar.

Recommendation: the Sub-Fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk category for this Sub-Fund is set at 3. It is calculated in line with EU regulations and is based on the risk limit for the Sub-Fund. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

A category 1 fund is not a risk-free investment - the risk of losing your money is small, but the chance of making gains is also limited. With a category 7 fund, the risk of losing your money is high but there is also a chance of making higher gains. The seven-category scale is complex. For example, a category 2 fund is not twice as risky as a category 1 fund.

The category is based upon the annual calculation of the Sub-Fund's risk calculation relevant to the nature of the types of instruments the Sub-Fund invests in. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

Credit and Counterparty Risk: The Sub-Fund invests in debt securities and deposits cash as margin for its derivatives positions with brokers and counterparties. The Sub-Fund is therefore exposed to the risk that a counterparty or credit institution may become unable to meet its financial obligations or declare bankruptcy. Securities which are subordinated or which have a lower credit rating are generally considered to have a higher credit risk and a greater possibility of default than more highly rated securities.

Downgrade Risk: If an issuer experiences difficulties in its business, the credit ratings of the issuer's subordinated debt securities (which the Sub-Fund will typically hold) will generally be downgraded and they will lose value faster than the issuer's unsubordinated debt securities.

Conversion Risk: The CoCos in which the Sub-Fund may invest carry the risk that they may be converted into equity if an issuer's regulatory capital is eroded by losses. CoCos tend to have higher price volatility and may be more difficult to sell than other securities as a result.

Derivatives for Investment Purposes: The Sub-Fund uses derivatives (e.g. futures, options and swaps) as part of its investment strategy for investment purposes. Derivatives are inherently volatile and the Sub-Fund may be exposed to additional risks and costs as a result.

For a more detailed explanation of risks, please refer to the "Special Considerations and Risk Factors" section of the Prospectus.
